Thrilling ascent.

Julian R Thomas, of New York, last week made a daring ascent in a balloon. The bag had to be inflated in Augusta, Ga. and it was intended to tow it several miles to the fair grounds, up the canal. The stream proved too narrow and the bag caught in the trees. Mr Thomas climbed into the net work and cut away the basket. He arose like a shot and traveled in a southwesterly direction to a height of 5,000 feet. When about seven miles from Augusta the valve, which had been damaged on Monday, began leaking and the aeronaut shot downward rapidly. Thomas cut off his shoes and heavy leather leggings and threw away his coat and the contents of his pockets. The descent was little checked and he came down in the middle of a field. The balloon then started across the field dragging Thomas nearly a quarter of a mile before he could extricate himself. He was lacerated but not seriously injured.

Second Report

Seven Killed.

Seven workmen were covered by a landslide on the Dry Fork branch of the Norfolk & Western, twenty miles from Jaeger Tuesday morning. Four bodies have been recovered, these men being drowned by being carried into the flood of the Dry Fork river which was out of banks. The other three bodies have not been found.

A gang of nineteen men were employed at this point clearing a small slip that covered the track and while at work a strip of 300 feet of track and mountain side let go and plunged into the raging flood below. Twelve of the men succeeded in gaining safety after a hard fight against the swift waters. It was some hours before a rescuing party could be put to work owing to the fact that all telegraph lines are down on account of the storm. Three bodies are supposed to be under the avalanche. The names of the victims could not be secured.

Hand Shot Off.

Roy the 14-year-old son of Everett Miller met with a most serious accident on Monday afternoon. He had started hunting and in crossing a rail fence was holding his gun by the muzzle with the butt resting on a rail. The gun slipped striking the hammer on the fence which caused the gun to explode and the entire charge of shot tore through his left hand. It was found necessary to amputate the hand at the wrist, which was done by Dr. Beard, assisted by J. W. Hutchesson.

The boy met with a serious mishap, on a previous occasion when he was run over and had his head mashed by a wagon. His father, Everett Miller has also suffered the loss of one hand.

Trains Lost.

For several hours this week both passenger trains on the Greenbrier division were lost to the officials of this road and no one knew their whereabouts.

The trains were caught between slides between Hosterman and Cas and were hung up all night. The wires were torn down and no messages could be gotten through by telegraph or telephone. The slides were cleared the next day (Thursday) and the trains were allowed to proceed. In the mean time a special train consisting of a box car and a passenger coach was run through from Ronceverte several hours late.

Jack Congblin, the well known lumberman, narrowly escaped death one day last week near May. He was woods superintendent for a lumber company there and was watching several of his teams sliding logs across the railroad track. A team was coming close to the railroad and Jack saw the passenger train approaching and ran up the track in attempting to stop the team. Before he could get the team stopped the train was upon him and knocked him from the track. A bone in his arm was fractured and he was otherwise injured. He was taken to the Elkins hospital and has so far recovered as to be able to be in Marlinton this week.

Boy Playing Magazine Gets Mouth on Fire With Gasoline.

In attempting to blow a stream of fire out of his mouth, to imitate a stream of a k. k. he had seen performed on the stage, Marie Friddle, the 14 year old son of Hyde Friddle, was painfully burned on the face and neck early yesterday morning at his father's restaurant on Main street.

Marie tried to do the trick by applying a lighted match to a thin stream of gasoline which he squirted from his mouth, trusting at the same time to strong and steady blowing to keep the flame at a safe distance from his face. Whether his lung power failed him or the gasoline proved more highly inflammable than he had anticipated, are problems that are still puzzling the boy. He is certain of one thing, however, and that is that his experiment was a dismal and disastrous failure.

Instantly upon the application of the match, the flame was in the boy's face. It burned the skin from his cheek bones, blistered his lips, rendered his neck and jaws raw, and scorched his eyebrows and hair.

Mr. Friddle, the boy's father, standing in front of the restaurant, heard his son's screams. He ran in and found him prostrate on the floor. Picking him up, he hurried to the office of Dr. T. C. Firebaugh, where the injuries of the venturesome little unfortunate were dressed.

It is believed the boy's eyes were not injured.—Harrisonburg News.

GENERAL ORDERS

Issued by United Confederates Veterans Reunions to Veterans at Richmond, Va.

Headquarters W. Va.
Division, U. C. V.

General Order:

All old Confederate soldiers of this Division will desire to attend the great Confederate Reunion to be held in historic old Richmond, Va., from May 30th to June 3d inclusive, during which the movements to President Davis and Gen. J. E. B. Stuart will be unveiled.

It will be a great memorial occasion, and Richmond will give a Virginia welcome to the old Veterans.

The committees in charge are anxious to provide for all who may attend, and to have order and system throughout the reunion.

It is therefore requested that Commanders of Camps will, at as early a day as practicable, give to Col. A. C. L. Gatewood, Adjutant General, Linwood, Pocahontas county, W. Va. the following information:

Name of your Camp and its Commander

Will you attend as a Camp? If so the number. If not, the number of delegates

The number of ex-Confederates in your vicinity who expect to attend.

The number and kind of musicians you will take.

Route of travel, and time of arrival at Richmond.

Quarters in Richmond will be provided

Let old Veterans remember the past, and embrace, perhaps the last opportunity to clasp hands with their old Comrades in war.

KILLED AT WILDELL.

Killed Man Meets Death beneath the Wheels on Log Head.

Ray A. Lawton, son of J. W. Lawton, lumber manufacturer at Wildell met death on his father's log road Monday, March 26, about 6 o'clock in the evening. He was bushkeeper and logger for the firm of Moore & Lawton, but while not having any office work to do, he worked on the yard and at other jobs to keep himself employed.

The engine had come in with two cars of pulp wood and young Lawton had cut the cars loose from the engine, intending to leave them standing on the side track till morning. He then got on the foot board of the engine to throw the switch after the engine had gone off on to another track. The cars got loose and ran down on the engine which was running very slow and it is supposed that when they hit the young man he let go his hold and fell on the track, the cars passing over him. His father was a witness to the accident and with assistance took the unfortunate young man to a nearby house. The father then went to inform the rest of the family and upon his return in less than thirty minutes the young man was dead.

The unfortunate young man bore an excellent reputation and had bright prospects ahead of him and but for his untimely death would have no doubt become one of this county's most influential business man, as the firm he worked for trusted him with all their business matters. At the age of 16 he successfully taught school in Armstrong county, Pa. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and of the order of Maccabees. He was 20 years and 9 months of age. His funeral was conducted at Elkins last Friday by the members of the fraternity to which he belonged.

VERDICT FOR $8000

CASE AGAINST CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD FOR KILLING OF ROBERT LANE.

Last week the jury in the case of J. C. Lane, administrator, against the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad for $10,000 damages, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding them damages to the extent of $8,000, or $2,000 less than the amount sued for by the plaintiff. The case will be appealed to the supreme court of Appeals.

This case has occupied the attention of the circuit court since Monday. The case comes from the killing of Robert Lane by J. L. Howery, a special officer employed by the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad and used on the train for the preservation of order. The killing happened on December 23, 1905. Lane had been to Charlestown and was returning home up the river when an alteration ensued and at Malden, Howery shot and killed Lane. Howery was convicted of manslaughter and was sentenced to a term of eight years in the penitentiary at Moundsville and is now serving his sentence.

After the sentence had been pronounced on Howery, J. C. Lane, administrator of the estate of Robert Lane filed a suit in the circuit court of this county for $10,000, setting forth that Howery was in the employ of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad and that the company was responsible for its agent. The trial began last Monday before Judge Burdette and continued until last Wednesday night when a night session was held for the purpose of disposing of the case. Many witnesses were examined in the past three days and the case went to the jury about 9:45 p.m. Fifteen minutes later they returned, done a verdict and judgment for $8,000 for the plaintiff. Attorneys Anderson, of Charleston, and Sims and Ensley, of Huntington, represented the railroad company and Attorneys Belcher and Middleton the plaintiff.

LAUNDRY BURNED.

Fire Monday Night Does Much Damage to Martinton's New Steam Laundry.

Flames were discovered last Monday evening at seven o'clock issuing from the Martinton Steam Laundry building on Camden ave. Before the fire department had the flames under control damage to the extent of nearly $2,000 had been done.

In less than five minutes after the flames were discovered and before the alarm was sounded from the tannery and the electric light plant No. 1 hose company was at the scene of the fire and had a stream of water playing on it. Number 2 company from the tannery got to the fire about five minutes later and shortly after No 3 company was on hands but their services were not needed as the fire was then under control.

The fire originated in the machine room but the origin of it is a mystery. The laundry quit lock that evening as custom and the flames spread about an hour supposed to have caught paper lying under his room as that building seems to have had was more damaged other part. Hammond Mann met with a serious accident yesterday by being thrown from a colt which he was riding. He and Rex Kincaid were riding along the road together between here and Campbelltown and the colt becoming restive was spurred by his rider. This made the colt fractious and Hammond was thrown, his head striking a rock in the road. The accident happened near Mrs. Cunningham's and he was carried into her house but later was removed to the Marlinton Hospital where it was found that the skull was fractured. An operation was performed and a piece of skull bone was removed from his brain. As we go to press this (Friday) morning Mr. Mann has regained consciousness and is resting easily.

of young Marritto Jonson who was south-easterly part of Sweden, and was the son of a well-to-do farmer. In fact his father had a large farm and was considered very wealthy. His elder brother had charge of the farm and the two brothers could not get along very well together, so Marritto came to America. This was six years ago.

He went first to Pennsylvania and about three years ago came to this

Bad Passenger Wreck.

Passenger train No. 149 due here at 8:10 a. m. was wrecked on the curve just west of Stony Bottom last Saturday morning, resulting in injuries to the engineer and fireman, the latter's injuries being quite serious. None of the rest of the train crew were injured and all the passengers escaped injury. The engine and baggage car were total wrecks.

As the passenger train was rounding
the curve about a half mile below Stony Bottom a large rock rolled from the cliff directly in front of the engine. The engine struck the rock before engineer R.
P. Boyd could reverse it and was thrown into the river twenty feet below. The baggage car was also thrown over the bank. Fireman D. M. O'Leary was carried into the river under the engine and had it not been for the fact that his body was submerged in the water he would probably have been scalded to death. As it was he was pretty badly scalded and also cut about the head. He was brought to the Marlinton Hospital and later removed to the Hinton Hospital where he is now making a slow recovery. Engineer Boyd's injuries were slight a cut on the right arm being the extent.

P. H. Shughrow, of Ronceverte, brakeman on the local freight, was painfully injured last Saturday morning at Seebert. His train had followed the passenger train into Seebert and the crew of the passenger had unloaded some trunks on the platform leaving them standing too near the edge. In attempting to board his train Shughrow had his foot caught between the rapidly moving train and one of the trunks. He was brought to the Marlinton Hospital where an examination showed a compound fracture of one of the ankle bones. He was later taken to the Hinton Hospital where reports this morning say he is getting along nicely.

Mr. Pryor, walking boss on the grade of the Greenbrier & Elk River R. R. was badly injured on July 5th.

He had set off a blast and with the right of way boss had taken refuge behind a log. The log was up off the ground a foot or so, and the shot instead of blowing upward, as they had judged, blew sideways. A heavy piece of stone was blown under the log and hit Pryor on the side of the head. He was knocked senseless but has so far recovered as to be able to be around, but is able to speak only three or four words and these indistinctly. It is supposed that the skull was fractured and pieces of bone are resting against the brain. An operation will likely be resorted to before he is completely cured.

Owning House Burned.

The home of Randolph Hambrick on Buckingham creek was burned to the ground
last Wednesday evening. Little was saved from the flames. The loss is about $1000 with no insurance. Mr. Hambrick will rebuild at once.

The family had just finished eating supper when flames were discovered burning from the roof. The fire started from the kitchen flue. Neighbors came to the rescue and assisted the family in saving everything in the lower part of the house except the dishes and a few other smaller articles. Nothing was saved from upstairs. Owing to the scarcity of water it was useless to attempt to put out the fire and work was confined to carrying the household effects from the house.

Latest reports from the Big Ship Titanic that foundered off
Newfoundland is that only 868 lives were saved. The ship only carried 20 small boats and into these were crowded the women and children. It is an unwritten law of the seas that the women and children should be removed first. The survivors are on board the liner Carpathia which is a slow vessel but was expected to arrive in New York last night. Very little authentic news can be learned owing to the fact of storms along the Atlantic which interferes with the wireless service. As soon as this ship arrives the world will know the history of this awful sea disaster.

"FOOD," ISMAY'S FIRST WORD

Rescued White Star Line Official Hurries When He Reaches the Carpathia.

New York, April 19.—"For God's sake get me something to eat. I'm starved. I don't care what it costs or what it is, bring it to me." This was the first statement made by J. Bruce Ismay, directing head of the White Star line, one of the few men rescued from the Titanic, a few minutes after he was landed on board the Carpathia.

It is touched for by an officer of the Carpathia, who requested that his name be withheld.

"Mr. Ismay reached the Carpathia in about the tenth lifeboat," said the officer. "I didn't know who he was, but afterward I heard the others of the crew discussing his desire to get something to eat the minute he put his foot on deck.

The steward who waited on him, McGuire, from London, says Mr. Ismay came dashing into the dining room and, throwing himself into a chair, said: "Hurry, for God's sake, and get me something to eat. I'm starved. I don't care what it costs or what it is, bring it to me."

BABY GIRL SAVED FROM SINK

Child Found Wrapped in Blanket by Titanic Survivors in Lifeboat—No Identity Marks.

New York, April 19.—Among the first passengers off the Carpathia was Miss Margaret Hays of 204 West Eighty-third street, accompanied by G. M. Tucker, Jr., of London. Mr. Tucker carried in his arms a little blond baby girl, possibly three years old. When he was asked whose baby it was he had rescued he didn't know.

"I was pushed into one of the last boats off," he said. "Miss Hays was in the same boat. We had drawn away from the Titanic and were possibly a half mile away when she sank. We found this little girl in the water a few feet away from our boat some time later.

"The baby was wrapped up in a
